QUALITY RCM IS UNIVERSAL

Whether you are doing domestic or offshore coding, the outcome of the medical coding that is delivered is dependent on the standards of the quality assurance program that you have in place. A 95% coding quality standard is the same regardless of the choice of locale when applied equally. Aviacode believes in this philosophy, as our quality assurance programs can provide a universal 95% standard for both our domestic and global coders.

Aviacode knows that there is a growing demand for global revenue cycle management (RCM) services. This demand enables us to offer not only extended hours of operations for coding services, but also cost efficiencies without compromising the quality of work delivered for other RCM services too. Aviacode has experienced global RCM professionals to handle many pre-bill back-office tasks such as insurance verification and patient registration and post-bill back-office tasks such as payment posting. By doing this work, it frees up your staff's team for other critical work.
